4TH INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM Hemangiomas and Vascular Malformations of the Head and Neck: State of the Art

April 5-6, 2013
Little Rock, Arkansas, U.S.A.

Sponsored by:

University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences
College of Medicine
Department of Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery
Vascular Anomalies Clinic & Research Center

Educational Objectives

This year's intimate two-day international workshop will focus on the "State of the Art" in management and scientific investigation of vascular anomalies of the head and neck. New and experienced contributors from all over the world will convene to explore novel treatments, interdisciplinary tools and surgical approaches to common and difficult cases. New information will be presented by invited leaders of the field and augmented by podium presentations of related and accepted abstracts.

The symposium will dedicate time to each of the primary clinical parameters involved in the treatment of vascular anomalies: Laser therapy, interventional techniques, surgical management, and pharmacotherapy. Complications and billing issues will also be addressed. Translational and Basic Science will be covered by one-quarter of the meeting.

The conference is designed to address sophisticated clinical questions and science in an open forum of individuals involved in hemangiomas and vascular malformations with the aim to identify future research and therapeutic directions.

Call for abstracts

Abstract shall be less than 250 words with a specific focus on diagnosis, management and scientific investigation of vascular anomalies of the head and neck. Abstract format shall contain the following sections - Objective: indicating the purposes of the study, Methods: describing material/patients and methods used, Results: organized description of critical results from study and, Conclusions: a statement outlining the importance of the study findings. Abstracts must be submitted via e-mail at va.symposium.abstract@gmail.com. Please provide contact information. Abstracts must be received no later than December 20th, 2012. After review of the abstracts by the scientific committee, the presenter will be informed regarding their acceptance for oral or poster presentation.

Proceedings from the symposium will be published.
